

THE FREESTANDING BATH TAKES PRIDE OF PLACE AS THE CENTRAL FEATURE OF THE BATHROOM.

This show-stopping ensuite was designed around the tastes and personality of its owner, and perfectly combines the key elements of unique design, privacy, simplicity and environmental awareness.

The brief centred on creating a space that has a unique look and one that isn't typically found in a beach house. Visually the design had to resonate well with the client, which involved taking a masculine approach to the aesthetics while incorporating sustainable materials.

This was achieved by keeping things simple and using the finishes and textures to create visual interest. The copper tiles used on the walls and the application of the beautifully designed laser-cut fabric used on the window over the spa immediately draws the eye when entering the room.

CaesarStone "Espresso" has been used to clad the spa bath and for the custom-made vanity top. CaesarStone quartz slabs can be used on all bathroom surfaces to create a modern and seamless look.

The large range of colours, patterns and finishes are complemented by durable qualities, including scratch, heat, mould and mildew resistance. CaesarStone's surfaces offer superior properties of strength compared with many other materials.

It is virtually non-porous, making it suitable for all wet areas, and requires minimal care to maintain its lustrous gloss finish.

The use of large slabs minimises the need for joins, resulting in a seamless finish, while also allowing for easier installation and minimal grout lines.

It does not require sealing and is easy to maintain by using the CaesarStone cream cleanser for optimum results, or alternatively warm soapy water.
